Virtual Town Hall via Zoom

All money raised will benefit our chosen philanthropies – Homeboy Industries and 2nd Call

In the face of the current housing crisis, we know that density is key to solving the shortage. The way we approach density in west coast cities like Los Angeles is very different than what works in other parts of the country like New York or Chicago. Join us to discuss what makes for a successful dense district, some of the housing prototypes that can work in LA, how density affects our unhoused residents, and different strategies private developers and public agencies are looking towards such as the Density Bonus Ordinance.
