

Southern California
Development Forum

The Impact of COVID-19 on the Future of Office Space

Tuesday, May 19, 2020
1:00pm-2:00pm

Virtual Town Hall via Zoom

Join us for a virtual town hall for a conversation about the future of office space that is both rooted in data as well as forward looking. The COVID-19 Pandemic has fundamentally changed the way we work. With the Office sector being one of the arguably least-resolved markets in the evolution of real estate, this crisis presents an opportunity to redesign the workplace.

A panel of experts will discuss latest numbers and forecasted trends. You will hear from the landlord side about what their tenants are asking for and what they are doing to ensure their tenants are safe, including use of technology. Learn about the current state of the leasing market and what large corporations are thinking about from a real estate strategy standpoint moving forward.

After the panel discussion, virtual breakout rooms will be provided to allow attendees to network with fellow attendees.

MODERATOR

Dan Rosenfeld

SPEAKERS

Matt Mowell, Senior Economist
CBRE Econometric Advisors

Eric Roseman, Vice President of Technology & Innovation
LPC West, Lincoln Property Company

Luigi Sciabarrasi
Senior Vice President, Global Real Estate
AECOM

Jodi Williams
Global Workplace Strategist
CRTKL

VIRTUAL TOWN HALL AGENDA

1:00pm - 1:40pm: Panel Discussion
1:40pm - 2pm: Networking in Breakout
Rooms

Zoom Link to be Provided

PROGRAM DETAILS

Free	SCDF Members
$25.00	Non-Members
$250.00	Event Sponsor

Click Here to Register